

~AYIN (36)

(`a'yin)

- The 16th letter of the Hebrew alphabet. The Greek vowel o'mi-kron (o) is derived from `a'yin. However, the Hebrew letter is not a vowel but a consonant. It represents a peculiar guttural sound pronounced at the back of the throat and has no equivalent in English. It is transliterated as ` . It appears as the initial letter in each of the verses of Hebrew text.
- I have executed judgment and righteousness. O do not abandon me to those defrauding me! (Psalms 119:121)
- Act as a surety for your servant for what is good. May the presumptuous one's not defraud me. (Psalms 119:122)
- My very eyes have pined away for your salvation and for your righteous saying; (Psalms 119:123)
- Do with your servant according to your loving-kindness, and teach me your own regulations. (Psalms 119:124)
- I am your servant. Make me understand, that I may know your reminders. (Psalms 119:125)
- It is the time for Yehowah to act. They have broken your law. (Psalms 119:126)
- That is why I have loved your commandments more than gold, even refined gold. (Psalms 119:127)
- That is why I have considered all orders regarding all things to be right. Every false path I have hated. (Psalms 119:128)
