

~EN-HAKKORE (40)

(En-hak-kor'e) [Fountain or, Spring of the One Calling]

.. A Spring At Lehi

.. A Spring At Lehi

- So God split open a mortar-shaped hollow that was in Lehi, and water began to come out of it, and he proceeded to drink, after which his spirit returned and he revived. That is why he called its name En-hakkore, which is in Lehi down to this day. (Judges 15:19)
- It received its name when Samson, who was thirsty after he had struck down a thousand men, began to call on Yehowah for water and the spring was miraculously provided.
- He, for his part, came as far as Lehi, and the Philistines, for their part, shouted exultantly at meeting him. And Yehowah's spirit became operative upon him, and the ropes that were upon his arms came to be like linen threads that have been scorched with fire, so that his fetters melted off his hands. (Judges 15:14)
- He now found a moist jawbone of a male ass and thrust his hand out and took it and went striking down a thousand men with it. (Judges 15:15)
- Then Samson said; With the jawbone of a male ass, one heap, two heaps! With the jawbone of a male ass I have struck down a thousand men. (Judges 15:16)
- And it came about that when he finished speaking, he immediately threw the jawbone out of his hand and called that place Ramath-lehi. (Judges 15:17)
- Now he became very thirsty, and he began to call on Yehowah and say; It was you that gave this great salvation into the hand of your servant, and now shall I die of thirst and must I fall into the hand of the uncircumcised? (Judges 15:18)