

~EPHRAIN (27)
(E'phra-in)

- A city taken by King Abijah of Judah in his battle against Jeroboam of Israel.
- And Abijah kept chasing after Jeroboam and got to capture cities from him, Bethel and its dependent towns, and Jeshanah and its dependent towns, and Ephraim and its dependent towns. (2 Chronicles 13:19)
- It was evidently in the territory of the tribe of Ephraim and appears to be the same as the city of Ephraim mentioned at;
- And it turned out after two full years that Absalom came to have sheepshearers at Baal-hazor, which is close by Ephraim, and Absalom proceeded to invite all the sons of the king. (2 Samuel 13:23)
- Hence Jesus no longer walked about publicly among the Jews, but he departed from there to the country near the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there he remained with the disciples. (John 11:54)
