

~KOA (28)
(Ko'a)

- A people or region mentioned with Pekod and Shoa at;
- The sons of Babylon and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, all the sons of Assyria with them, desirable young men, governor's and deputy rulers all of them, warriors and summoned ones, riding on horses, all of them. (Ezekiel 23:23)
- And foretold by Yehowah to supply part of the enemy forces that would assault unfaithful Jerusalem and Judah. Koa was probably located East of Babylonia and has been generally linked with the Qutu, a people who resided East of the Tigris on the steppes between the upper `Adhaim and Diyala rivers. The Qutu are frequently coupled with the Sutu, perhaps the Shoa of;
- The sons of Babylon and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, all the sons of Assyria with them, desirable young men, governor's and deputy rulers all of them, warriors and summoned ones, riding on horses, all of them. (Ezekiel 23:23)
- In Assyrian inscriptions, such records showing them as fighting against Assyria.