

~MOUND (71)

- A geographic or structural feature of ancient Jerusalem.
- And David took up dwelling in the stronghold, and it came to be called the City of David, and David began to build all around from the Mound and inward. (2 Samuel 5:9)
- Now this is the account of those conscripted for forced labor that King Solomon levied to build the house of Yehowah and his own house and the Mound and the wall of Jerusalem and Hazor and Megiddo and Gezer. (1 Kings 9:15)
- However, Pharaoh's daughter herself came up out of the City of David to her own house that he had built for her. It was then that he built the Mound. (1 Kings 9:24)
- And this is the reason why he lifted up his hand against the king: Solomon himself had built the Mound. He had closed up the gap of the City of David his father. (1 Kings 11:27)
- However, his servants rose up and leagued together in a conspiracy and struck Jehoash down at the house of the Mound, on the way that goes down to Silla. (2 Kings 12:20)
- And he began to build the city all around, from the Mound even to the parts round about, but Joab himself brought to life the rest of the city. (1 Chronicles 11:8)
- Furthermore, he took courage and built up all the broken-down wall and raised towers upon it, and on the outside another wall, and repaired the Mound of the City of David, and made missiles in abundance and shields. (2 Chronicles 32:5)
- Subsequently all the landowners of Shechem and all the house of Millo gathered together and went and made Abimelech reign as king, close by the big tree, the pillar that was in Shechem. (Judges 9:6)
- But if not, let fire come out of Abimelech and consume the landowners of Shechem and the house of Millo, and let fire come out of the landowners of Shechem and the house of Millo and consume Abimelech. (Judges 9:20)

- The same Hebrew word translated, Mound, mil-loh ', is rendered Millo;

See Also MILLO

- The exact nature of the Mound is today unknown.
- However, his servants rose up and leagued together in a conspiracy and struck Jehoash down at the house of the Mound, on the way that goes down to Silla. (2 Kings 12:20)
- Reference is made to the house of the Mound, which may indicate that it was a citadel-like structure. As to its location,
- And David took up dwelling in the stronghold, and it came to be called the City of David, and David began to build all around from the Mound and inward. (2 Samuel 5:9)
- Furthermore, he took courage and built up all the broken-down wall and raised towers upon it, and on the outside another wall, and repaired the Mound of the City of David, and made missiles in abundance and shields. (2 Chronicles 32:5)
- Associate it with the City of David, indicating that it was either in or at the edge of the City of David.
