

~TEHTH (37)

- The ninth letter of the Hebrew alphabet. The sound represented by the letter corresponds to an emphatic English t, produced by pressing the tongue strongly against the palate. Its sound differs from that of the letter taw primarily because of its lack of aspiration after the (t) sound. In the original Hebrew, it appears at the beginning of each verse of
- You have dealt well indeed with your servant, O Yehowah, according to your word. (Psalms 119:65)
- Teach me goodness, sensibleness and knowledge themselves, for in your commandments I have exercised faith. (Psalms 119:66)
- Before I was under affliction I was sinning by mistake, but now I have kept your very saying; (Psalms 119:67)
- You are good and are doing good. Teach me your regulations. (Psalms 119:68)
- The presumptuous have smeared me with falsehood. As for me, with all my heart I shall observe your orders. (Psalms 119:69)
- Their heart has become unfeeling just like fat. I, for my part, have been fond of your own Law. (Psalms 119:70)
- It is good for me that I have been afflicted, in order, that I may learn your regulations. (Psalms 119:71)
- The Law of your mouth is good for me, more so than thousands of pieces of gold and silver. (Psalms 119:72)
