

Ezekiel 31:5 That is why it grew higher in its stature than all the other trees of the field. And its boughs kept multiplying, and its branches continued getting longer because of much water in its watercourses.<sup>1</sup>

Footnote: In its watercourses by a correction, M, by its sending forth

[2] - References:

- I have seen the wicked a tyrant and spreading himself as a luxuriant tree in native soil. (Psalms 37:35)
- Its foliage was fair, and its fruit was abundant, and there was food for all on it. Under it the beast of the field would seek shade, and on its boughs the birds of the heavens would dwell, and from it all flesh would feed itself. (Daniel 4:12)