

John 21:8~ But the other disciples came in the little boat, for they were not a long way from land, only about three hundred feet away,¹ dragging the net of fishes.

Footnote: Literally, about two hundred cubits See Appendix 8A

1· However the rest of the disciples came in the little boat, for they had to drag the net full of fish, and they were not that far from shore, only about three hundred feet away, so they came dragging the net full of fish behind them.

[Question] How did the other disciples come to shore, for how far away were they then, and what did they bring with them?

2· So they motioned to their partners in the other boat to come and assist them, and they did come, and they filled both boats, so that these began to sink. (Luke 5:7)

[Question] Who had come to assist Peter and Andrew, at that first large catch of fish?
