

John 5:11~ But he answered them; The very one that made me sound in health said to me; Pick up your cot and walk.

1· However the man told them, that the very one who had healed him had told him to pick up his cot and walk on home. No doubt this man felt that such authority superseded theirs.

[Question] What though, did the once crippled man tell the religious leaders, and what did this show, about how he felt about Jesus' authority?
