

John 5:7~

The sick man answered him; Sir, I do not have a man to put me into the pool when the water is disturbed, but while I am coming, another steps down ahead of me.

1· So the man answered Jesus, to the effect, that he did not have someone to help him to get down into the water, when the waters were disturbed. For they believed, that an angel stirred the waters, and that the first one going into them after they were disturbed would be healed. So the man complained to Jesus, that by the time he got into the waters, another man always got there ahead of him.

[Question] How then, did the sick man answer Jesus, for what did he show that he believed would happen, if he entered the waters after they were disturbed?

[Question] What then, was the man's complaint?
