

John 9:18~ However, the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had gained sight, until they called the parents of the man that gained sight.

1· So rather than believe that the man had even been born blind, which was widely known to be a fact, they instead called in the man's parents, to ascertain if he had truly been born blind.

[Question] Whose word though, did they not accept, and so who did they call in to testify regarding this matter?
